SOCIAL SKILLS: ACCEPTING FEEDBACK

TIER 2/TIER 3
BEHAVIOR INTERVENTION

You know those students who struggle with their behavior because they are missing the skill of accepting feedback?

This is the support for them!

It works by developing two things:

Skill Acquisition = Students learning and understanding skills

Skill Fluency = Students actually using the skills consistently at the right time and place

how do I use this?

- Example 1: A student is having some struggles, and you think early intervention might help them get back on track.
- Example 2: A student needs more frequent intervention and support, so you use these activities for 15-minute sessions 2-5 days/week.
- Example 3: You think a student would be a great candidate for Check In/Check Out or Self-Monitoring, but you want to make sure they really understand the skill(s) first.
- Example 4: When a student is sent to the office, is in in-school suspension, etc., and you want to provide a proactive response. Identify the skill(s) that would have helped them meet expectations and choose one or more activities for that skill.

part 1: teach the skill

Teach and model the skill using one of the two instructional tools included:

- Definition and How-To Page (developed with 2-5 in mind)
- Social Narrative (developed with K-2 in mind)

part 1: teach the skill

Check for understanding and begin processing and reflecting on the skill through activities like:

- Roll and Respond Prompts
- Example Scenarios and Discussion Questions
- Anchor Chart

Roll-and-Respond: Accepting Feedback

What is one thing you can say when someone gives you feedback?

When should you accept feedback?

How will accepting feedback help you? Why is it a good thing to do?

...that you accepted

Let's talk about...accepting feedback!

Miguel is joking around with friends when one friend says, "Hey, I don't like that joke. Can you not say that anymore?" Miguel listens and stops making that joke. His friend feels more comfortable, and they keep playing together.

- Why might it have been hard for Miguel to accept the feedback?
- How did accepting the feedback help his friendship?
- What might have happened if Miguel kept making the joke?

Accepting Feedback: When + How

When might you accept feedback... from a teacher?

When might you accept feedback... from a friend?

Show what it looks like to listen to feedback and then make a change.

Why is it important to listen when someone is giving you feedback?

part 3: reinforce and generalize the skill

Generalize the skill through an action plan, and reinforce the skill through:

- Student Desk Reminder
- Faculty/Staff Lanyard Card
- Positive Reinforcement and/or Data Tracking Pages

questions & answers

Who is this for?

- These activities are for students whose behavior concerns seem to be due to them lacking key social, emotional, and behavioral skills.
- They are not the best fit for students whose behavior struggles are due more primarily to needing connection, competence and control, or motivation for change.

How can this be tier 2 OR tier 3?

If you're using this resource in a small group, or individually very short-term, then this is a tier 2 intervention.

If you're using this resource for more long-term work with an individual, or in addition to one more other interventions, it's likely more of a tier 3 intervention.
